SCHOOL NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-ONE SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL NINETEEN HUNDRED A

1961

DEDICATION

You are many things, South High . . .

You are cold, empty structures of timber and stone, glass and steel.

You are warm, friendly people, encouraging, willing to teach, eager to learn.

You are an experience, a symbol,
a mainstay, an ideal;

You are a way of life; you are a memory . . .

To you, South High, and to the throngs of carefree students who have surged through your doors these past three decades, to emerge as young adults, better equipped to meet the challenges of citizenship in a democracy, to you we dedicate this thirtieth edition of the Souther- ner, 1961.

Dear Marty,
It's really been great knowing you this year. I'm really going to miss you during the summer. You are so cute & have such a unique personality. Just always be good and obedient.
Take it easy on the girls & don't believe them about Johnning.

Audrey

You, the doers

You who execute the plans and the projects, You who build and better the symbol of South High, performing a service as dubious and perpetuating his reputation, You who benefit and are benefited by the organized activities of our school,
You are integral activity.

You have learned a valuable lesson in democratic citizenship, working together, achieving through cooperation. You have added your individuality, have multiplied the efforts of many in objects of pride and satisfaction.
You work have enriched your school and our world; but more important, you yourself have been added upon.

SCHOOL NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY ONE SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL NINETEEN HUNDRED

You, the Cubs

You who represented South High on gridiron diamond, track, and court

You who firmly asserted a reputation of Southern might who had the competitive spirit, and who fought for your feelings

You the athletes

And you who cheered the team on from the stands and stood behind them all the way

You who put your wings behind your heart, almost won't was often the deciding factor

You the fans

You are Southerners all.

You met both defeat and defeat for and with our South High, but with heart and mind you earned that both were forms of triumph for they brought us all glory

On South High! We stand behind you forever!
On South High! To greater heights and fame Oh the Blue and White will ever wave on

While we proclaim your praises to all Rah, Rah, Rah
Hail, South High! We stand behind you forever Hail, South High! The school that we love best To your colors we're true, while all our voices ring out, Rising to the sky for our South High

South High's Sons and Daughters, like the mighty waters, Roll along to victory!
 Sides of Warriors meet us, with their teams to beat us,
 But we'll fight for victory Onward! Onward! Team's against the foe, Forward! Forward! The South High Cubs will go South High, we are with you, and we're here to cheer you,
 On, on, on to victory

Spring vacation . . . recreation and relaxation . . . off to the mountains . . . sunburns . . .
the end of skiing . . . the beginning of tennis, golf, and bicycling . . . a welcome rest

"Now as I was saying, tennis is a wonderful muscle-builder."

Spring Vacation

Once in a yearbook there has to be a picture out of focus.

Oh-mi-gosh! It's coming undone!

Spring Exhibit

Complete distortion!

Homemaking department . . . fashions, food, and place settings . . . art exhibits . . . displaying outstanding effort and ability . . . representation from the shops . . . exhibits of workmanship . . . blending voices and strains from the music department.

Pheasant under glass — no doubt!

Award Dinner-Dance

Honoring outstanding students . . . on excellent dinner highlighted by the presentation of awards . . . showing achievement in various fields . . . our leaders of tomorrow

Just a lucky draw!

What's with the shirt?

Lagoon Day

A day of fun and frolic . . . swimming . . . thrills . . . lots of food . . . everybody out for a good time . . . new clothes . . . sunburns . . . Lagoon Day an unforgettable Southern activity

Three jolly coachmen.

Yearbook Day . . . bringing back memories of the year . . . the climax of friendship, a chance to sincerely express appreciation and enjoyment . . . farewells, goodbys, and . . . "oh, were you in my English class?"

Side by side.

Yearbook Day

"Have fun this summer..."

NINTH HIGH SCHOOL NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY

GRADUATION

IN APPRECIATION

It is the small things that you will remember of South High . . . the shiny waxed floors after vacation . . . the locker that always stuck . . . the aromas of appetizing food and choking chemicals mingling and penetrating the halls . . . the spirit of democracy . . . the fun of friendship . . . the pause between the school song and the thunderous cheer that follows. . . . And it is the small things that have made the production of this yearbook a memorable experience, the infinite small details that have given it meaning . . . deadlines . . . lost pictures and artwork . . . the desperate urgency of a posed picture . . . crazy captioners with their hilarious offerings (sometimes unprintable) . . . the excitement of the first returned proof . . . friendly debates and discussions, all with one goal in mind; a yearbook that truly is South High. Few people are responsible; many have contributed; all were necessary. The friendly co-operation and professional excellence of Ecker's and Wheelwrights' . . . the artistic and imaginative advice and help of our sponsor, Mr. LaLonde . . . most important, the late and long hours of a wonderful staff — willing workers all. Small jobs and large jobs, all of them well-done, all of them deserving thanks. This I do now, in sincere appreciation.

Kay Hellstrom, Editor

IN MEMORIAM

No man is an island, entire of itself;
Every man is a piece of the continent, A part of the whole. If a clod were wrenched off the Promontorie were as well as a man. If the sea were to rise and cover the land, any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind.

— John Donne
